

WE ARE HERE FOR YOU

External point of contact for protection of personal integrity

Your well-being is important to your employer. We are your external point of contact for all forms of violation of personal integrity. Affected individuals receive professional support and information in a confidential setting.

We advise you on all issues relating to violations of personal integrity. This includes topics such as bullying, sexual harassment, discrimination and threats or violence. This service is provided to you free of charge by your employer.
